"Hail To Thee . . ."

Our school is diverse in its appearance, its students and its connotations.

Diversity of Virginia High is evident in its connotations to the people. A freshman sees the many traditions and standards to be upheld. To the senior, facing college or a career, it is a goal achieved and an era of life ended. For the teacher, it is a place of challenge and potential knowledge. To the citizen, it is representative of our society, seeking wisdom and truth.

The Nucleus Of V.H.S.

The Virginia High faculty and administration is composed of men and women with a variety of qualifications and backgrounds. As club and student activities sponsors, teachers work closely with and assist the students. The faculty, guidance counselors, office staff, assistant principal, principal, superintendent of schools and school board work together to maintain high standards of education at Virginia High.

The Pursuit Of Knowledge

Virginia High offers its students diverse fields of study. For the studious it offers advanced courses in both mathematics and science. Students choose from the many available courses according to their interests, abilities, and choice of profession. Those interested in attending college work towards an academic diploma and those planning to pursue a business career seek a secretarial or general diploma.

Those Were The Days

Extracurricular activities are an important part of student-life at V.H.S. The color and excitement of V-T Week, from the first decorations to the winning play, highlighted fall activities.

The Spring Festival, always entertaining and exciting, was a major part of spring activities. In May the All-Sports Banquet honored outstanding athletes. For Juniors and Seniors the year was climaxed by the Junior-Senior Prom, Senior Banquet and graduation.

They Gave That We Might Enjoy

Athletics at Virginia High provide color and excitement for students both as participants and spectators. Bearcat athletes compete with teams not only from the Southwest District but also other schools of Southwest Virginia and upper East Tennessee.

Working all summer, our cheerleaders are well-trained and school-spirited. Each spring the freshmen, sophomores and juniors choose those girls best qualified for the strenuous, thrilling job.

Bristol Co-operates As Twin-City

Bristol provides diversity in educational opportunities, social and cultural activities, and recreational facilities. In addition to the public school systems Bristol has two junior women's colleges, a four-year church supported institution, a technical school, and two commercial colleges. These schools are supplemented by a modern public library which offers various research materials, records, and samples of art work.

Civic clubs offer citizens an opportunity to serve their community and to participate in various social activities.

DR. JOSEPH B. VAN PELT
Superintendent of Schools

Staff Honors Superintendent

Much of the growth of the Bristol Virginia School System is a result of the outstanding leadership of Dr. Joseph B. Van Pelt. Because of his excellent work, his service in educational organizations and in civic and religious activities, he has upgraded the quality of education and inspired the lives of countless students in Bristol during the past twenty-four years.

He received his B.A. degree from Randolph-Macon College, M.A. from the University of Virginia and in 1962 Randolph-Macon bestowed upon him his Doctorate.

Dr. Van Pelt has been both teacher and principal. He has served education through leadership positions in the State-V.E.A. and National-N.E.A. professional organizations. His office is open always to advise or help those seeking professional guidance.

Because of your vigor and enthusiasm for those things held dear in our "American Democratic Way of Life", we honor you, DR. JOSEPH B. VAN PELT.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS
Dr. Joseph B. VanPelt

The School Board for the Bristol, Virginia School System consists of five members. These members are qualified, responsible citizens who are approved by the City Council and State of Virginia. The Superintendent is chosen by vote of the School Board members. The main duties of the board include adopting policies for the school system, devising and providing means of executing policies and seeing that they are carried out. Board decisions are contracts for buildings, faculty salaries, and educational policies.

Dedication

A Man Of Diverse Ability

Academic experience is the yardstick of an educator. As assistant football coach and head baseball coach he came in close contact with the students. He served as principal of Highland View Elementary and Virginia Junior High. His dedication to the profession led him to seek his doctorate at the University of Tennessee. He then accepted the post of principal of Virginia High.

To a man of perseverance in such a diverse field we dedicate the 1969 VIRGINIAN —

DR. LOUIS KOVACS

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL
Mr. Cecil Rasnick

Mr. Rasnick receives aid from Mrs. Whitaker in signing excuses.

Rasnick Devotes Full Time To Office

After serving many years as an instructor of mathematics, Mr. Cecil Rasnick was released this year from his teaching duties to devote all his time to the demanding job of Assistant Principal, a position he has held for eleven years. Mr. Rasnick is often seen selling tickets for athletic events, heard making announcements, and found signing student admittance slips.

Although his duties are many, he still finds time to visit and observe Trigonometry and Advanced Algebra classes, in which he has a great interest, and assist students with math problems.

Assistant Principal checks the day's absentee list.

P.T.A.

The Virginia High School P.T.A. is organized for the purpose of furthering cooperation between the faculty and parents of Virginia High students. It gives parents a chance to acquaint themselves with the teachers and discuss their children's educational progress. It also serves the community through its various projects. A question and answer program this fall provided parents an opportunity to ask questions and make recommendations to the School Board. During V-T Week the P.T.A. sponsored a hot dog supper and dance in the cafeteria before the annual bonfire and pep rally.

Parents pay membership fee prior to the first P.T.A. meeting.

Parents consult with Miss Garrett after the first P.T.A. Meeting.

School Functions Through Joint Effort

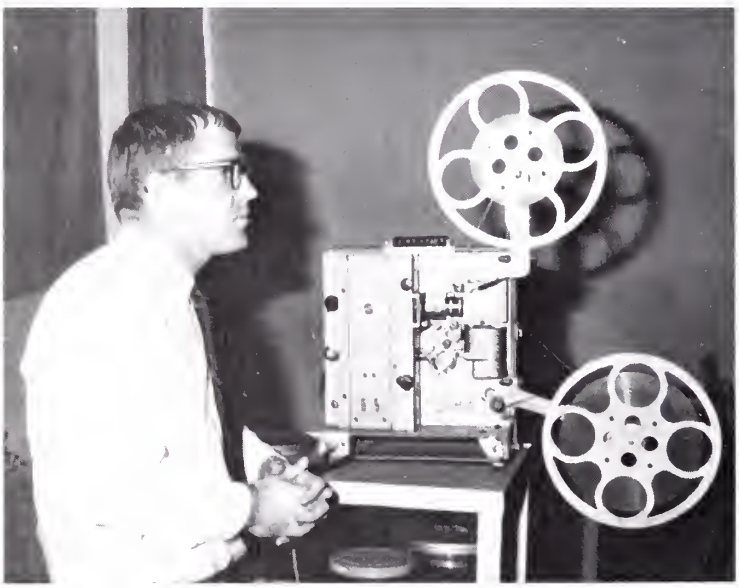
Mrs. Whitaker runs off the absentee list on the office mimeograph machine.

Mrs. Pfeifer prepares a statistical report on the adding machine.

Football player Alex Todt listens as Coach Watford gives instructions for a play.

Mrs. Copenhaver looks over some of the library's new books.

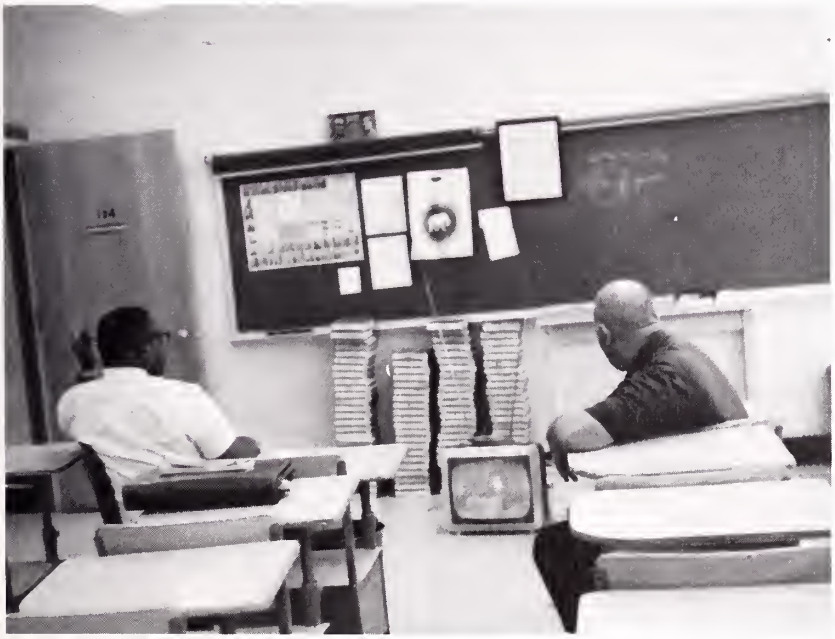
Parents talk with Mr. Farthing after a PTA meeting.



Mr. Spangler shows a film to one of his Science classes.

Teachers listen to the news before a faculty meeting begins.

Mr. Harris talks with Mr. Thomas Tracy, a guest speaker from the Federal State Department.



Mr. Harris and Mr. Curcio watch a Political Party Convention during their free time.

Miss Brown listens as David Silvers delivers his Voice of Democracy speech.

Academics

Mrs. Hilten's sixth period class makes use of study time.

Mrs. McChesney gives individual help.

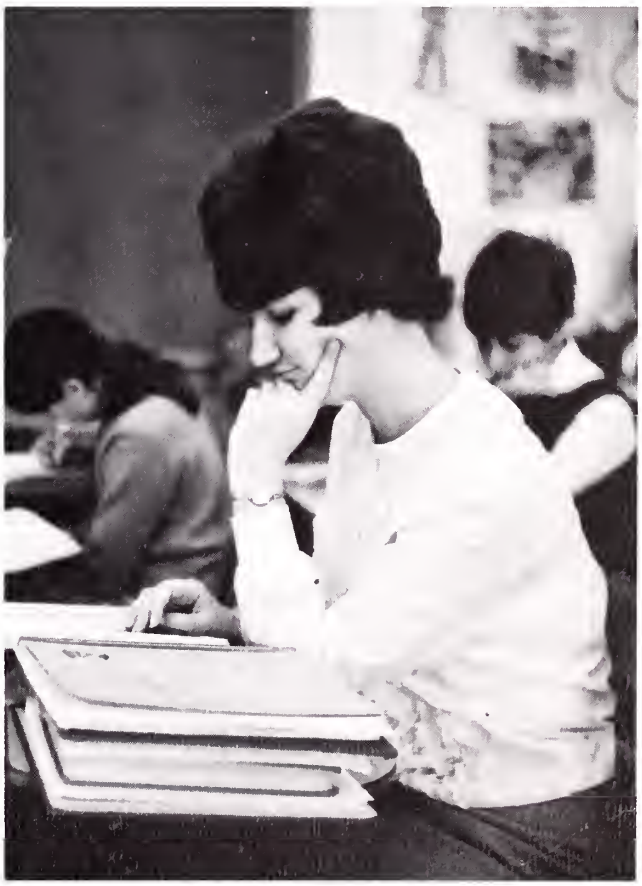
Mrs. Post applies make-up to Donnie Branson for play.

English Department Has Active Forensics Program

Miss Whitley helps Barbara Greene with an English composition.

The importance of English for communications is heard every school day between periods in the halls of Virginia High. These fine arts of speaking and writing are taught to the student each year he attends high school. To show achievement in these fields, the English Department annually sponsors the Forensic competition and supervises the Voice of Democracy contest.

Sherry Kinder reads an interesting story.



Suzanne Jessee and Ara White work with pulleys in Physics class.

Mrs. Pullon helps David Harrison solve a chemistry problem.

Mr. Reuning and Gary Tolbert are amused by the inertia experiment.

Experiments Stimulate Interest

Coach Spangler talks to Advanced Science class about brain transplants.

A weak stomach won't do for the Science classes at Virginia High, as the activities range from dissecting a frog in Biology, to burning sulpher in Chemistry. As well as these two classes, the department offers General Science, Physics, and Advanced Science. All future scientists look forward to the annual Science Fair sponsored by the Science Department.

Math Department Stimulates The Mind

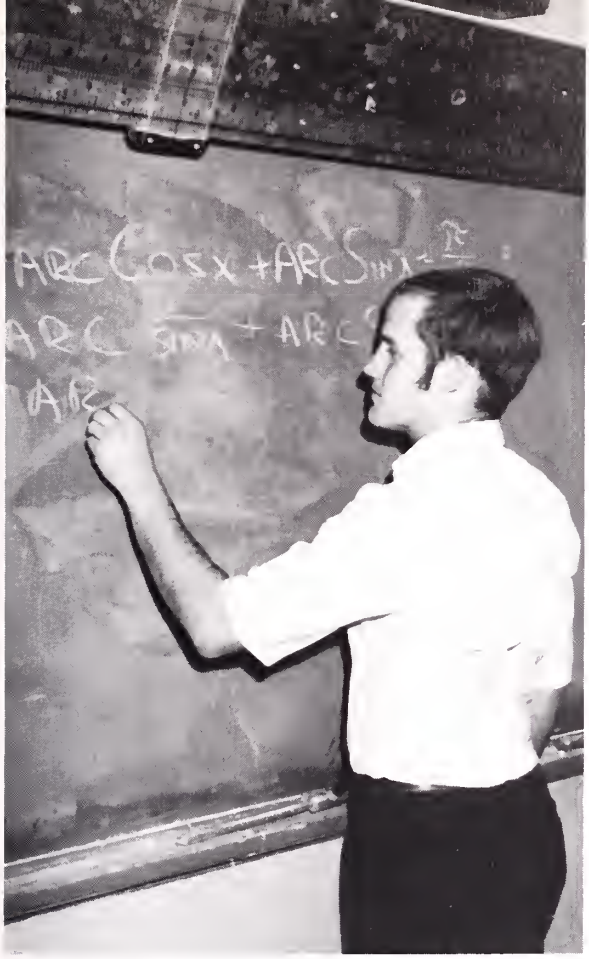
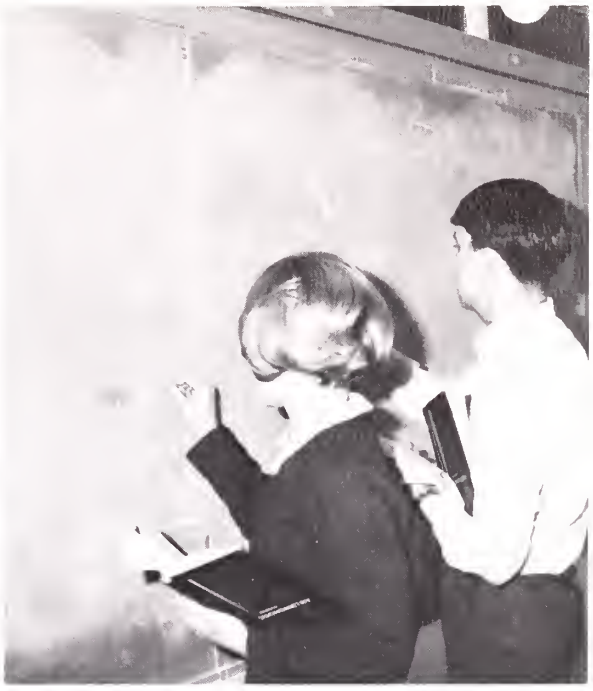
When the student is pondering over 1+3, he is a candidate for the Math Department at Virginia High. This outstanding department offers general courses, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, and Advanced Math. One of the finest events of the year is the display of geometry projects sponsored by Miss Garrett's classes.

Steve Wheeler ponders over Geometry projects.

Mr. Farthing clears the confusion that Trigonometry has created in Tommy King's mind.



Tom Harmon ponders over a tricky Trigonometry problem.



Mary Bruce Chandler and Tommy King try to solve Trigonometry problem.

Slope problems come easy to these Algebra students.

Guest Speakers Lecture To Students

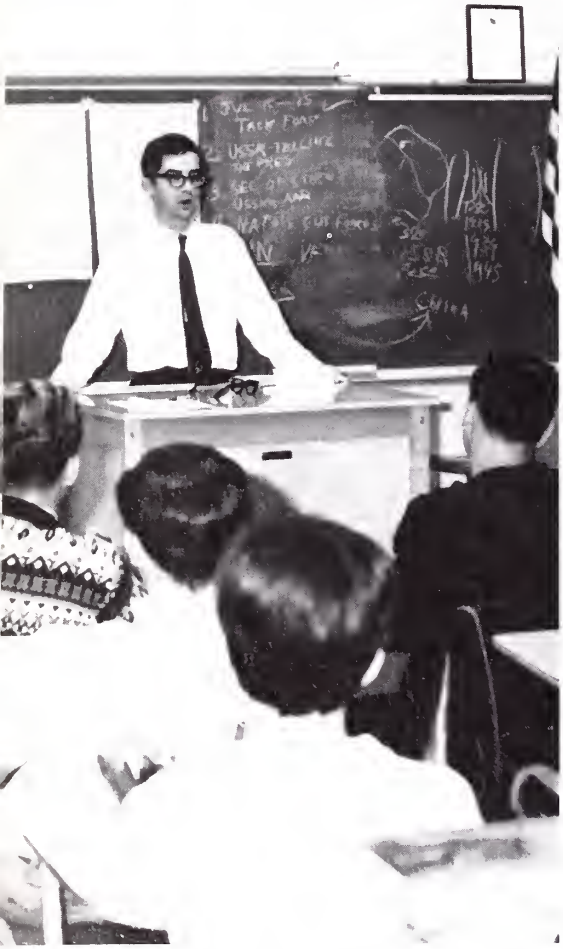
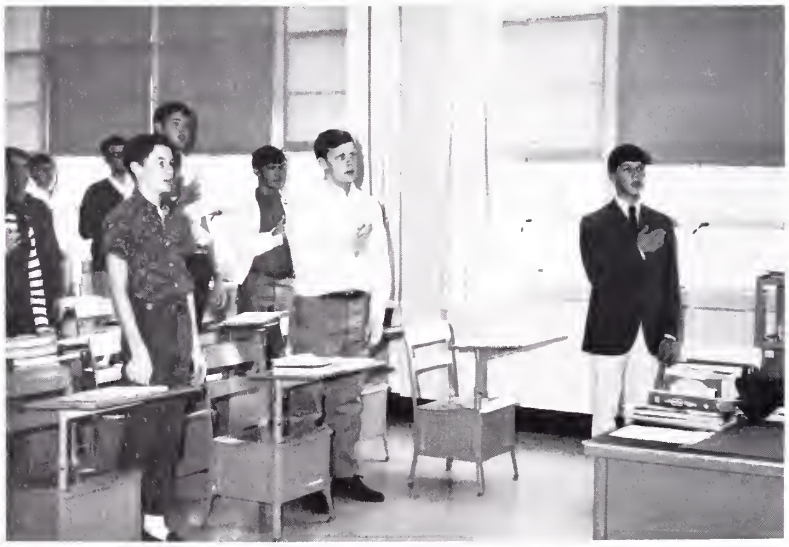
World History, United States History, and United States Government are the basic credits available in Social Studies. Economics was added to the department this year as an additional course for Seniors and Juniors.

Mr. William Rogers, ETSU, adjusts microphone as he prepares to speak to Government and History classes.



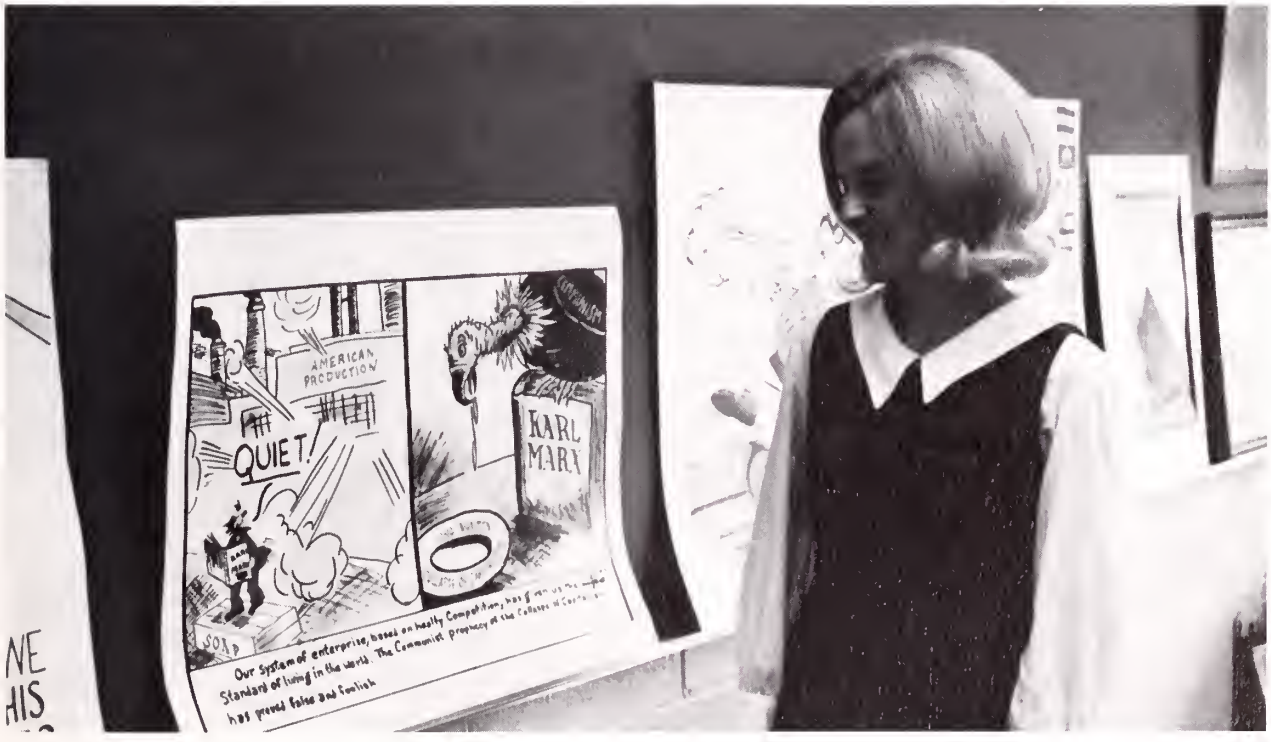
Mr. Tracy, from the Federal State Department, speaks on foreign affairs.

Randy Cutshaw leads pledge of Allegiance in History class.



Mr. Curcio gives Ricky Dugger personal help.

Patty Moore looks at cartoon turned in as project in Mrs. DeBusk's U.S. Government class.



Pam McCroskey and Margaret Belcher load washing machine.

Linda Yates, Faye Arnold and Linda Rutter tidy living room of the Home Economics suite.

Mrs. Coleman's first period perfects cooking skills.

"I don't remember cutting out this piece!"

Home Economics Is A Useful Subject

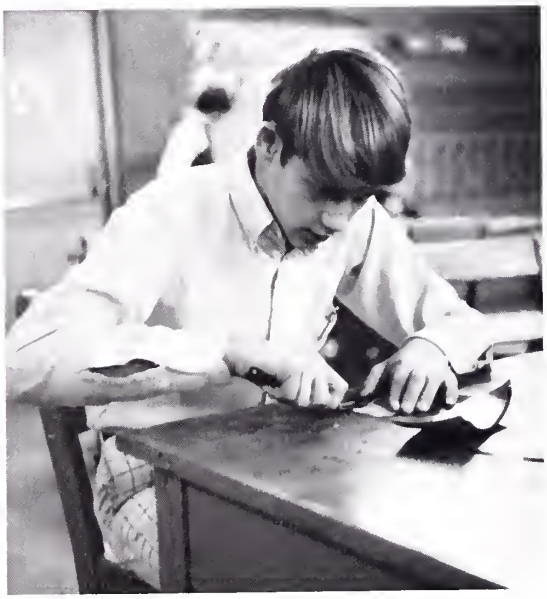
A general rule followed in the Home Economics department is "Careful, don't eat it." However, one shouldn't be discouraged, for by the end of the year, the girls are prepared in all the skills of the homemaker.

These arts are tested with the Betty Crocker Award contest, sponsored annually by the Home Economics Department.

Mrs. Coleman is especially helpful when things become frustrating

Will my school insurance cover this?! IF it goes through your hand, that is.

Joe Perry cuts wood for his project.



Jeff Holland puts final touches on leather billfold.

Mike Ellis, Joe Perry, and John Morrisey make a wooden cabinet.

Shop Students Become Skillful In Leather, Metal, And Wood Works

Shop I claims many bruised elbows and cut fingers. By the end of the year however — these novice woodcutters are flourishing carpenters, skilled enough to go on to leather goods and constructing scale replicas of buildings in Shop II.

Mr. Dugger shows Jeff Dowell how to operate the lathe.

Mrs. Martin lectures to her General Business class.

Pam Barker types a mock term paper.

Miss Campbell assists Jean Dillow.

Mike Fitzgerald "plods" through a timed-writing.

Efficiency Is Learned Here

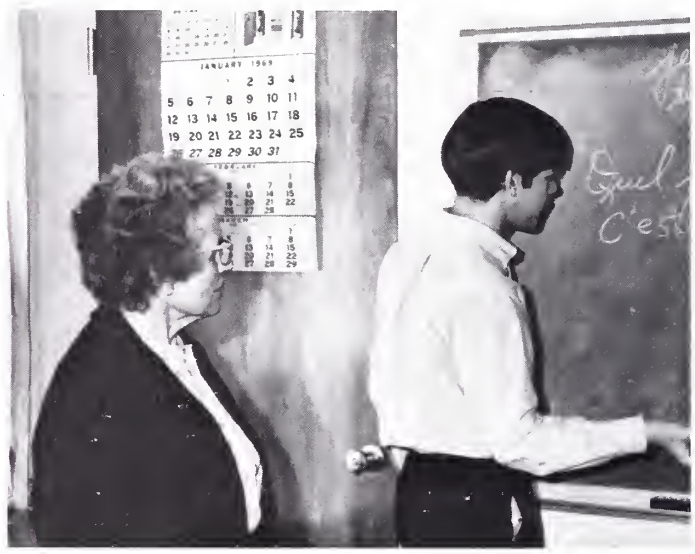
The Commercial Arts department of Virginia High offers all the courses necessary for an efficient secretary or businessman. First-hand experience is gained with the use of up to date equipment from electric typewriters to adding machines.

Student typists perfect their accuracy.

Joan Cain concentrates on Spanish conversation.



Mrs. Hubbard helps Gordon Gilmer translate French sentences.

Maggie Fagan reads Spanish lesson.

Latin students expand knowledge?

Language Is "A Must" For The College-Bound

Passing from Study Hall into the new language wing, one's ears can pick up the garbled words of students wrestling with au revoir, adios, and valete. The Virginia High foreign language department offers four years of French, Spanish, and Latin, though only two years of one is required for an academic diploma.

This is the longest sentence!

Gym Classes Work Toward Physical Fitness

Physical education provides students not on athletic teams an opportunity to participate in various sports. Freshmen and Sophomore courses are required, while additional ones are optional.

Also a part of the physical education program are courses in health, drivers' education, and first aid.

"What're you jumping about? I've got the ball!"

There's plenty of action in boy's Phys. Ed.

Coach Towns keeps an orderly class.

"Think fast!"

Mrs. Bowdoin gives instruction in exercising properly.

"I want my "Mummy".

Ginny Schlipf participates in a game of Charades.

Speech Class Is Full Of Surprises

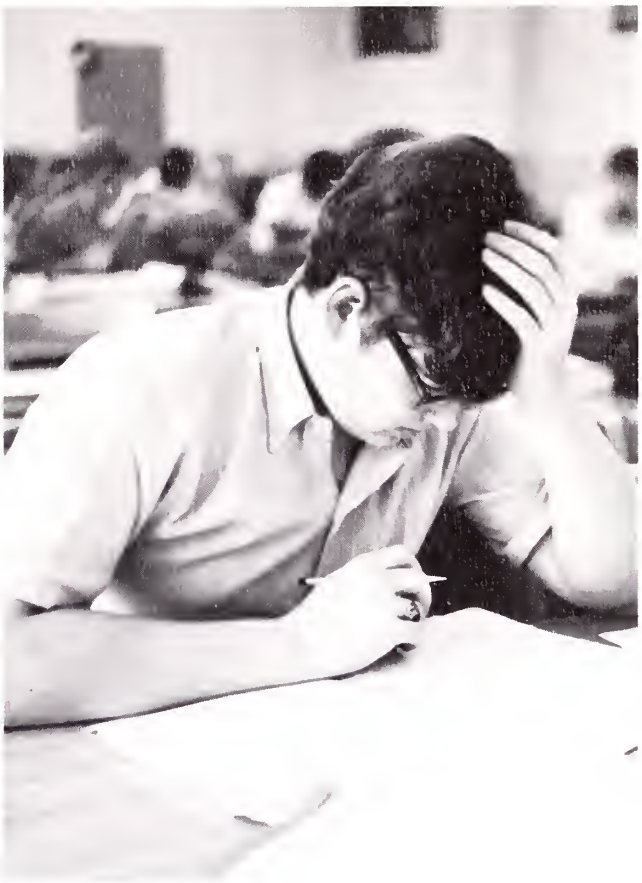
An impromptu speech on chalk or a pantomine on Adam and Eve are just a few of the surprises awaiting the speech student. During a life time nearly everyone is called on to make a public address. In speech the students are taught to express themselves well in order to become more self-confident and more at ease than the amateur speaker. The speech classes also participate in the Forensics and Voice of Democracy competitions.

Marty Greeson presents Voice of Democracy speech to his class.

Students Make A Welcome Use Of Study Hall

Walking through the study hall you see a few students sleeping, a few are doodling, several are reading, but most are studying. As long as they are quiet, however, these activities are allowed. The main purpose of this class is primarily for studying. Many students take advantage of this extra hour of quiet to finish last minute homework, tomorrow's assignment or last week's make-up test.



David Koltunski studies extremely hard.

Jack Feazell surrounded by other study hall members can't believe the assignment.

Art Classes Give An Outlet For Expression

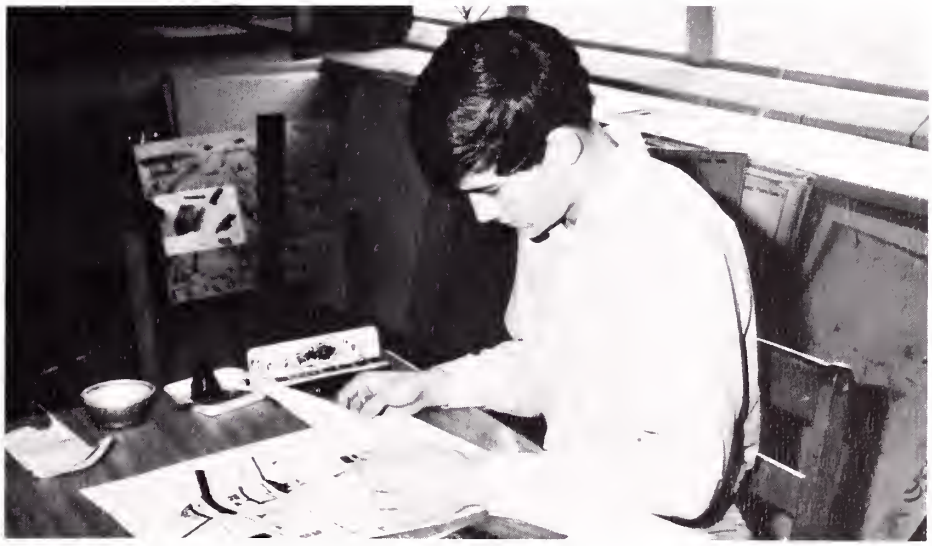
Virginia High is blessed with an extremely active art department. This course gives the creative student an opportunity to further develop his talents in various phases of art. As well as providing timely showcase displays the department creates the scenic backdrop for the Spring Festival.

Bill Smith admires an art exhibit.

Thomas Eury does a portrait sketch.

Valerie McCulloch works with water paints.

Sherry Thomas admires Mona Knox's abstract painting.



Mrs. Dillard collects test papers from students.

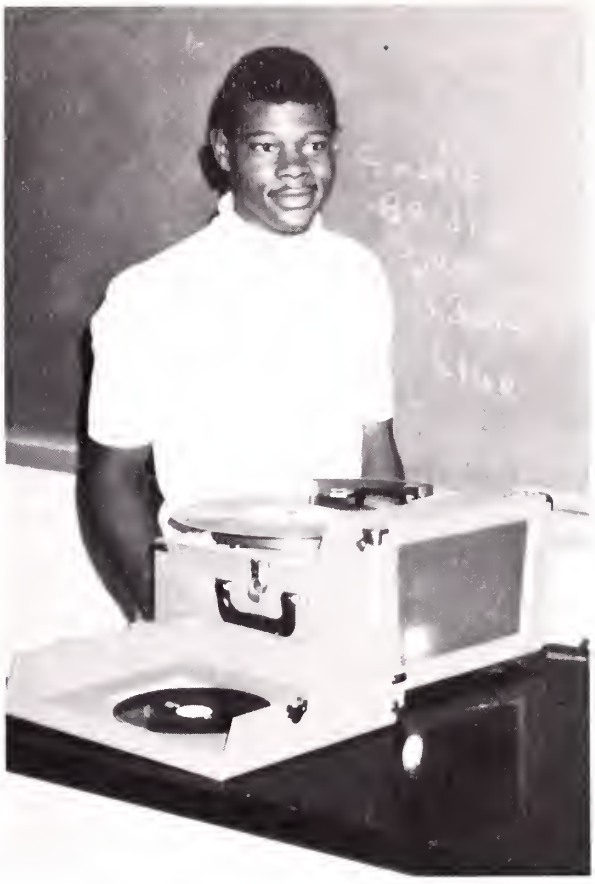
Reading Taught For Increased Comprehension

Mr. French's reading class is basically to help improve his students reading ability. Through the uniform reading of books and regular timed readings most students are able to improve their speed and comprehension.

Mr. French gives out examinations.

Students Given Exceptional Opportunities In Special Education.

The Special Education department offers participating students a unique opportunity for developing their abilities to their greatest potential.



Walter Foster listens to a record in Special Ed. class.

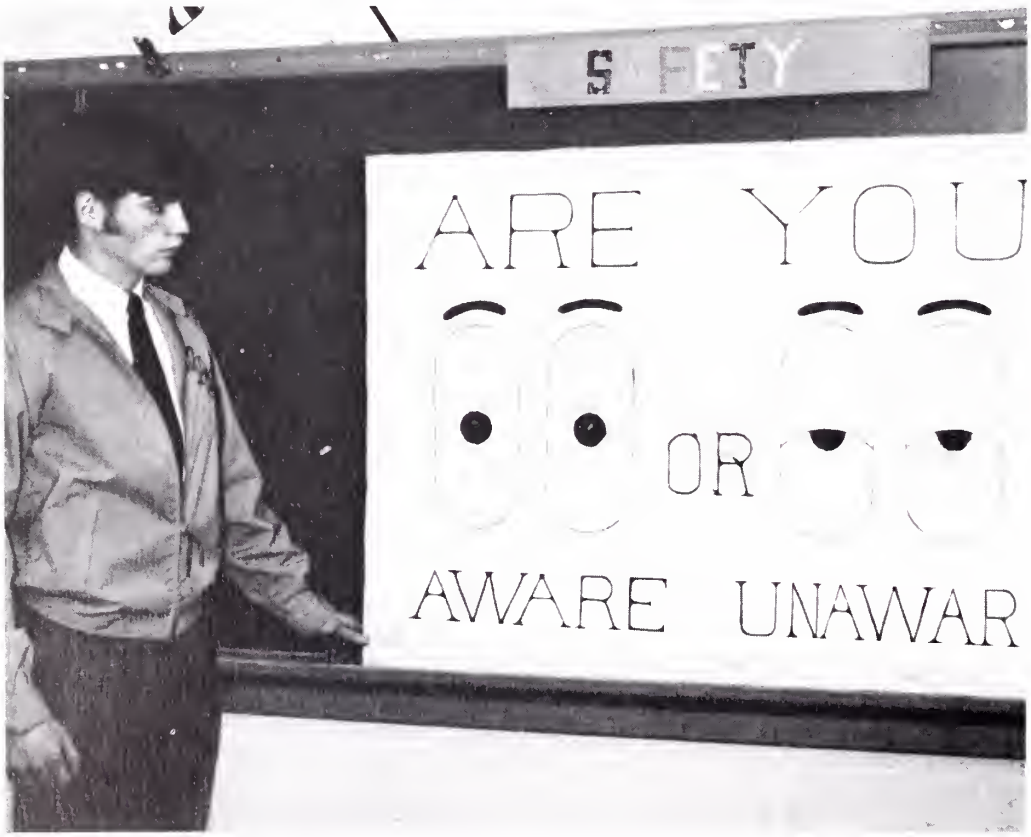
Mrs. Key assists student in a board assignment.

I.C.T. Offers Students A World Of Their Own

The Industrial Cooperative Training course at Virginia High, known as I.C.T., is a program in which the students study for half a day and then leave for work at an industry or a business in the Bristol area. This program offers students an opportunity to gain experience while exploring their field of interest.

Doug Simms delivers a speech on V.I.C.A. to his D. O. class.

Bill Gore prepares a display on Safety.



D.O. students take notes while listening to a record.

Mrs. Boyd discusses new Federal Administration with her class.

Mike Rhoton displays D.O. project.

D.E. Students Gain Job Experience

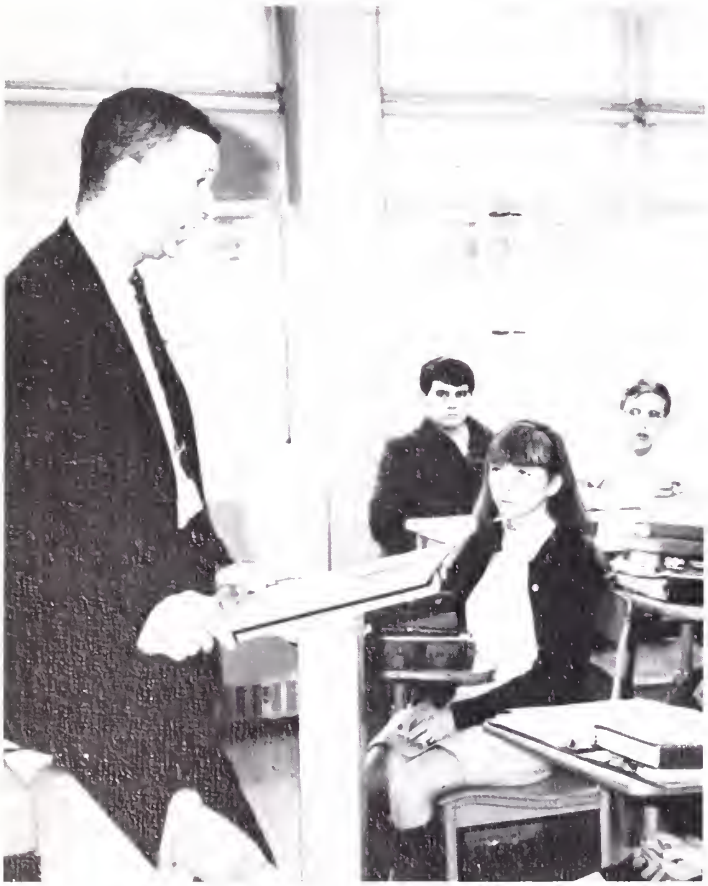
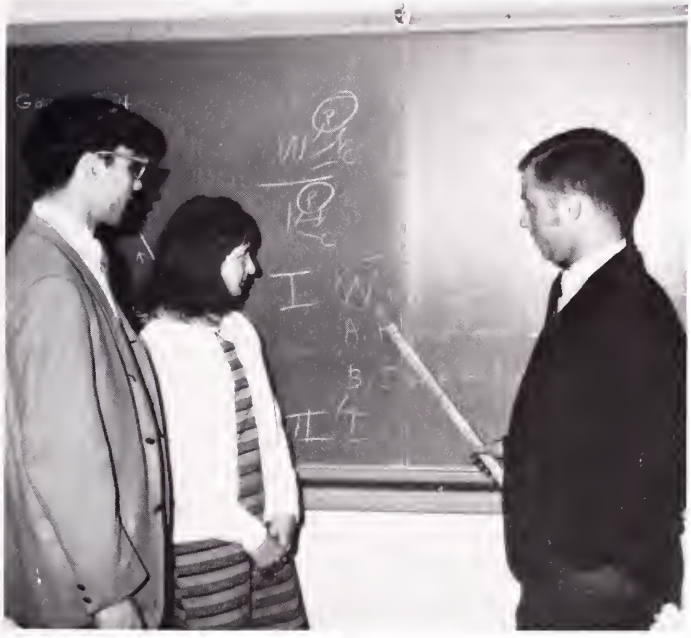
Look out businessmen of America! With the outstanding Distributive Education department of Virginia High our country's economic future will be in good hands. This work-study program prepares the students for almost any profession or trade.

Kathy Rose gives a speech on the Free Enterprise System.



Mr. Cummins gives a lecture on good salesmanship.

Jerry Hagy and Bonnie Hall set up a mock store display.



Student teacher Jim Crumley explains store management to Danny Large and Darlene Moore.

Kermit Davenport looks over pamphlets concerning better salesmanship.

Mechanical Drawing Adds New Dimensions

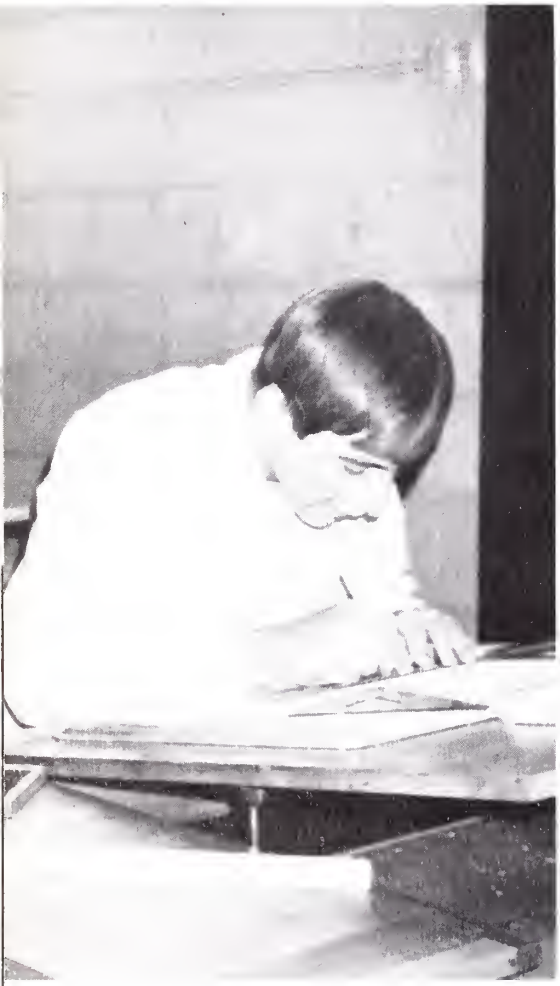
No longer is Mechanical Drawing made up of just straight lines and angles. With each year the curves increase, and this year the girls are eight in number. The main purpose of this is to teach those students interested in drafting to read and draw blue prints.

Mr. Myers assists Charles Nelson.

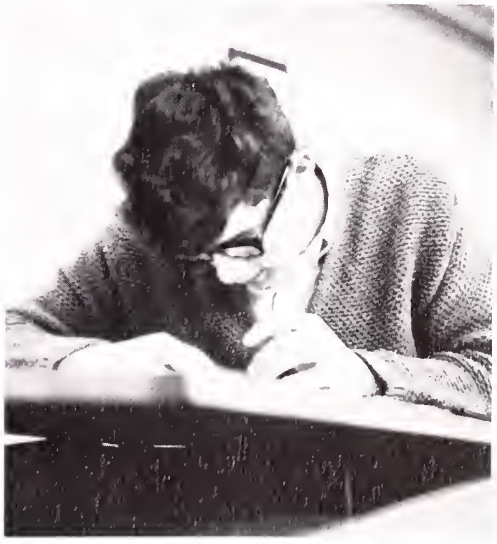


Stanley Rhea works on a daily assignment.

Charles Acuff designs a blueprint.

Mr. Pearson helps Mike Tuell while other students work on their drawings.

Mr. Pearson listens as Patrice Kerr asks him about a drawing.



Tom Leonard works on a floor plan.

Mrs. McNutt and Mary Bruce Chandler look over a college catalog.

Guidance Department Is Synonomous To An Oasis

The Guidance Department is a large box of Kleenex and a shoulder on which to cry. With the guidance counselors' fine backgrounds and excellent training, most problems are solved and crises avoided. The counselors also administer all of the standardized achievement tests taken during the school year. College Day is both planned and conducted by the Guidance Department with various college representatives coming to answer questions pertaining to their college's academic and social life.

Mr. Hall helps Randy Gordon with his college application.

Library Increases Efficiency

The peaceful world of the library is an important part of any educational system. The library at Virginia High contains books for pleasure, references, periodicals, and other sources of information necessary for the academic and personal uses of the student. It is through the library that audio-visual materials are obtained.

Brumet Crowned 1968 Homecoming Queen

The highlight of the Thomas Jefferson football game was the crowning of the 1968 Homecoming Queen, sponsored by the "Little Virginian" Staff. Contestants were Senior girls chosen by the individual clubs and voted on by the student body. This year's Homecoming Queen was Linda Brumet. The Homecoming Court consisted of Rita Sword, Gail Huntley, Nicki Saddler, and Ginny Schlipf.

Robin Arnold, 1967 Homecoming Queen, happily crowns Linda Brumet.

Bearcats Plow Under "Cropp"

The weekend calm of V.H.S. was broken as students arrived Sunday afternoon to begin decorations for V-T Week. Halls decked with streamers, banners, and signs set the stage for "Watford's Wonderful World." Pep rallies, a car parade, bonfire, and snake dance built up to the climax — The Game. The week reached its zenith as Watford's 'Global Glories' defeated 'Cropp's Craps' by 13–7, thus retaining the city trophy and title.

TWIRP Violators Face Charges

Isn't this carrying it a little far?

TWIRP Week is held annually preceding Valentine's Day. TWIRP stands for The Woman Is Requested to Pay. Imagine a few of the comic situations created such as . . . the skipped heart beat of the victim as his date skims past the telephone pole . . . the 5'2" female diligently struggling with the coat of her 6'2" date . . . the understandably anxious parent giving the age-old instruction, "Take good care of my baby and have him in by 9:30!"

If either party fails to abide by the rules of "vice versa" or fails to wear a TWIRP Bird, they must report to Kangaroo Kourt. The cheerleaders review the cases and pass judgement. The criminal must then pay penance regardless of the hilarity of embarrassment. At last life is returned to normal as the lioness returns from her prowl and plunder.

Are you two for real?

Around every corner lurks doom and disaster!?

A dance with the Funky Soul providing music, highlighted TWIRP Week.

Two TWIRP violators sentenced to a day of repentance.

Head-cheerleader Linda Brumet calls Kangaroo Kourt to order.

Festival Presents "Mountain Melody"

Art Club paints backdrop.

"Mountain Melody," the 1969 Spring Festival, was hosted by Tommy King, the Master of Ceremonies. Considered a great success, the various skits depicted life in the mountains, ranging from the tragic to the comical. The Art and Music Departments spent many long but rewarding hours preparing their part in the gala affair. The highlight of the festivities was the crowning of Miss Ginny Schlipf and Mr. Randy Gordon as Queen and King of Virginia High School.

Mrs. McNutt, director, congratulates Tommy King, M.C., on an excellent job.

The band put in long hours of practice for the Festival.

Lannie Rutter sang the blues that accompany digging "Sixteen Tons."

The Musical Mountaineers enchanted the audience with "The Two of Us."

Gene Kistner pleaded, "Woodman, 'Spar' That Tree!!"

Mary O'Dell was the organist for the evening.

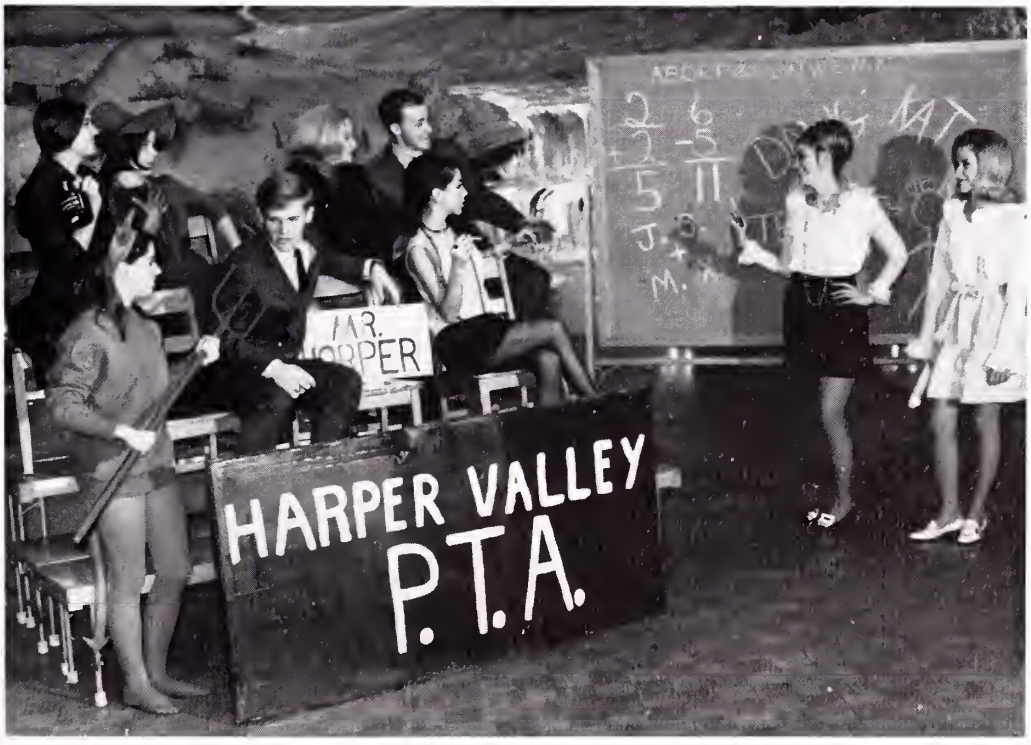
"Minnie Pearl" longed for Henry Lee to meet her "A-round the Corner."

The Boy's Quartet, accompanied by Eddie Taylor, immortalized Hank Williams with a medley of his most renowned songs.

"Salty Dog" dancers livened the evening with their own style of "rug-cutting."

"Down In The Valley" Brack wanted to be free to be with his true love, Ginny.

And, there was the day Mrs. Johnson 'socked' it to the "Harper Valley P.T.A."



"The Daisy Mae Kick Line" gave the 'city-slickers' a view into 'Yokum Country.'

Vocalists Eleanor Grace, Mike Ellis, and Jack West entertained during the judging.

"Lil' Abners" sang the praises of that "Good Ole' Mountain Dew."

Gene Malcolm Award

Mr. Malcolm proudly displays the new trophy.

Gene Malcolm, affectionally known as "Mr. Bearcat," has been identified with Virginia High spirit since his student days.

He was head cheerleader for the Bearcats, active in the support of all VHS sports events, and since graduation has been one of the key figures in the Bearcat Boosters Club.

The Bearcat Boosters under Malcolm's leadership has sponsored the summer festival rides at Randolph Field. From these rides the Boosters have contributed many thousands of dollars for the VHS Athletic and general school program.

Gene has been president of the Bearcat Boosters for many years. The organization presents the annual athletic awards — such as the McEver-Feathers award and the Bill Betters trophy for baseball. Beginning in 1969, in tribute to Mr. Malcolm, the Boosters Club will present the Gene Malcolm Track Award to the outstanding track performer.

Dr. Kovacs receives the award from Chauncey DeVault as Gene Malcolm looks on.

In Memoriam

The skies wept in Bristol the day a young marine gave his life in Vietnam. This spring, in his honor, the James Farmer Memorial Award will be presented to the Best All-Around Athlete at Virginia High School who has attained a "C" average.

Jimmy Farmer graduated from Virginia High School in 1965 and was considered as one of the finest long-ball hitters to ever play for the Bearcats. He won the Southwest District batting championship and was All-Southwest District in baseball as outfielder. In 1964, Jimmy played on the Bearcat's Southwest District Championship football team and was also All-Southwest District at center and linebacker in football.

Students Involved In Current Events

Nixon makes political comeback to become our nation's 37th president.

The excitement of the Presidential Campaign reached Bristol in October with the appearance of third-party candidate George C. Wallace. Virginia High students did not attend his rallies but held a mock election in which Wallace ran away with the victory. In reality, Nixon won the election with blurry, red-eyed students watching the final returns in their classrooms. While Humphrey was wishing he could have been captive at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, three men were captive in a tiny space capsule racing toward the moon at fantastic speeds. Their return, after orbiting the moon, marked a milestone in the past and a goal for the future.

Cheerleaders Promote School Spirit

The Bearcat cheerleading squad is composed of seven vivacious girls whose purpose it is to promote school spirit in the student body of Virginia High. Cheerleaders are chosen each spring by vote of their respective classes. After a summer of practice they are ready to begin their activities in the fall. This year they held weekly pep rallies for both football and basketball games. Highlighting the cheerleaders activities was sponsoring V-T week. Their efforts resulted in elaborate decorations, a car parade, and excellent school spirit at the game.

The 1968 Bearcat Football team, which finished the season with a 6–4 record, was one of the strongest teams in recent years. The Bearcats, plagued with injuries, mistakes, and bad luck, lost their four games by a total of fourteen points.

Virginia's first opponent was John Battle. In a hard fought and error plagued contest the Trojans won 14–13. The next week the Graham G-Men fell to the vengeful 'Cats 31–19. Grundy was the next victim of the speedy Bearcats 34–9; while Abingdon was crushed 53–20 in a free-scoring contest. Marion scored a T.D. in the final 48 seconds to edge out the scrappy Bearcats 27–21. The following week William Fleming of Roanoke bowed to the 'Cats 20–6. Richlands then beat Virginia in a "mud bowl" 19–13. The game was played under the worst weather conditions in many years. In the next game previously undefeated Tazewell left Bristol on the short end of the score, 26–20, in the best game played by the 'Cats all season. Thomas Jefferson upset the Bearcats in the next game 21–20.

In the last game of the season the tough Bearcats outclassed arch-rival Tennessee before a packed stadium of over 10,000 fans to retain their city title.

Todt, Rutter, Salyers, and Slagle were the captains for the '68 season.

Finale

The doors close, but the spirit of V.H.S. is preserved in each of us. Never shall we forget the frustrations of defeat . . . the satisfaction of accomplishment . . . the exhilaration of competition . . . diverse emotions bringing back moments entirely our own.

Decisions made . . . challenges met . . . responsibilities accepted . . . these have prepared us to meet a diverse world as a unique individual.
